The efforts and success of this store to give the public the "Three R's" of good store keeping is

RIGHT MERCHANDISE must not only be true but timely—the things people want at the time they want them. It must be merchandise attractive because of character-merchandise that always leaves behind it the memory of good service.

RIGHT SERVICE is possible only by everlasting vigilance, and one mistake may upset the most careful plans, but it teaches us what not to do.

RIGHT PRICES This business lives and grows day by day, and if merchandise service and prices were not right, people would not come here the second time. Right here is a page filled with just the sort of good merchandise you want at a saving that will interest you. We are sure of ourselves in this-one of the three aims of good store keeping.
